Professional Summary

I am a professional tour leader in Bhutan (happiness is a place) with more than 20 years' experience in the field of guiding and assisting the office with valuable contributions for designing the trips across the country. In the last 2 decades I have lead trips for reputed companies like National Geographic Expeditions, Geo-Ex, Butterfield & Robinson, Lindblad Tours, World Expeditions, Explore and many more travel companies around the world. My true passion however is mountain biking and that has taken me to Belmont, Massachusetts, in the United States to study about biking as well as organizational logistics and environmental awareness related to trip leading. I have also played a key role in brain storming the founding of the Tour of the Dragon, the toughest one-day mountain bike race in the world (www.tourofthedragon.com) - an international mountain biking race & I was the first champion in the year 2010.
